II. Consultancy Assignment

1. Background/Context

UN Women, grounded in the vision of equality enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations, works for the elimination of discrimination against women and girls; the empowerment of women; and the achievement of equality between women and men as partners and beneficiaries of development, human rights, humanitarian action and peace and security.

The United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the empowerment of Women (UN Women), grounded in the vision of equality enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations, works for the elimination of discrimination against women and girls; the empowerment of women; and the achievement of equality between women and men as partners and beneficiaries of development, human rights, humanitarian action and peace and security.

Placing women’s rights at the center of all its efforts, UN Women leads and coordinates United Nations system efforts to ensure that commitments on gender equality and gender mainstreaming translate into action throughout the world. It provides strong and coherent leadership in support of Member States’ priorities and efforts, building effective partnerships with civil society and other relevant actors.

In Viet Nam, UN Women contributes to the development objectives of Viet Nam’s Socio-Economic Development Plan and the National Strategy for Gender Equality. Its Country Strategy Note for 2022-2026 is aligned to the upcoming UN Sustainable Development Cooperation Framework (CF) 2022-2026 and is focused on supporting Viet Nam’s fulfilment of Gender Equality commitments under The Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW), and the promise of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda to “leave no one behind”. The key priorities of UN Women in the 2022-2026 period are:

- (i) By 2026, people in Viet Nam, especially those at risk of being left behind, will benefit from and contribute to safer and cleaner environment resulting from Viet Nam’s effective and gender responsive mitigation and adaptation to climate change, disaster risk reduction and resilience building, promotion of circular economy, the provision of clean and renewable energy, and the sustainable management of natural resources.
- (ii) By 2026, people in Viet Nam, especially those at risk of being left behind, will contribute to and benefit equitably from more sustainable, inclusive and gender-responsive economic transformation based on innovation, entrepreneurship, enhanced productivity, competitiveness, and decent work;
- (iii) By 2026, people in Viet Nam, especially those at risk of being left behind, will have benefited from and have contributed to a more just, safe and inclusive society based on improved governance, more responsive institutions, strengthened rule of law and the protection of and respect for human rights, gender equality, and freedom from all forms of violence and discrimination in line with international standards.

Capacity development is considered of major importance to achieve progress toward the advancement of gender equality and women empowerment as set out in the SDGs. The UNDG recognizes capacity development as one of its six key programming approaches for UN-integrated programming at the country level. As such, the Quadrennial Comprehensive Policy Review (QCPR) (2017-2020), adopted by General Assembly resolution 71/243, called upon the UN development system to further “support the building, development and strengthening of national capacities to support development results at the country level and to promote national ownership and leadership, in line with national development policies, plans and priorities.”

Capacity building as part of UN Women activities and programming has been a central point in its current and previous strategies. For UN Women, capacity development is a mean to not only reach its objectives but to do so in a sustainable manner, responding to the partners’ needs with a strong focus on transformational change. In Viet Nam evidence of capacity is found in the significant progress that has been achieved in advancing gender equality and women empowerment e.g. with regards to the inclusion of gender in the formulation of policies and laws.

In 2021, UN Women have conducted a partner’s capacity assessment and found that knowledge on gender mainstreaming, and women empowerment has improved in general, however there is a difference amongst thematic areas as well as between central and local level. Secondly, existing capacities are largely concentrated amongst a small pool of experts with an advantage for CSOs and their platforms.

Additionally, under the joint program “Elimination of violence against women and children in Viet Nam 2021-2025” (UNFPA, UNICEF and UN Women), with the longer-term goal: “All women and children in Viet Nam, including those most vulnerable, are able to live a life free of violence through strengthened prevention strategies and multisectoral responses.”, one of the objectives is also to capacity for staff, officers, services providers, and other stakeholders in Viet Nam to promote gender equality and prevent and respond to gender-based violence. UN Women has partnered with the Gender Equality Department - MOLISA (GED) to partly implement this component using the RESPECT Women prevention framework (RESPECT)<sup>1</sup> and the global essential services packages for women and girls subject to violence (ESP)<sup>2</sup> as key reference documents.

In 2022 and 2023, UN Women have conducted different trainings on gender equality, gender mainstreaming and gender-based violence for partners, government officials, NGOs representatives and individual consultants.

To continue building capacity of partners, government officials, NGOs representatives and individual consultant on knowledge and skills to deliver training or session on gender equality and gender-based violence with creative methods, UN Women is therefore seeking a consultancy team (01 team leader and 01 team member) to design and provide training courses on creative training methods on gender equality and gender-based violence to above mentioned participants.

The consultant will be reporting to UN Women ERAW Programme Analyst and will be supported by UN Women ERAW Programme Analyst, who will be the point of contact on the contract and payment issues.

2. Description of Responsibilities/ Scope of Work
