CALL FOR PAPERS

INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE

“HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND NEW HUMAN RESOURCES FOR VIETNAM’S NET ZERO EMISSION GOAL”

Under the Paris Agreement (2015), 197 countries have committed to sustainable development goals to limit the global average temperature increase to 1.5⁰C above pre-industrial levels in order to avoid the most severe impacts of climate change. At the 2021 United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP26), 147 countries pledged to develop and implement measures to reduce greenhouse gas emissions to achieve net zero emissions (Net Zero). At this conference, with many other countries around the world, Scotland, United Kingdom and Vietnam expressed strong commitment to achieve “Net Zero” by 2050. Accordingly, the concept of “Net Zero” has been adopted by many countries and has been the common view for the development process. Many experts state that there are requirement of principal conditions, including human and human resources for the Net Zero goal.

Thus, in order to achieve the goal of “Net Zero”, Vietnam needs to be prepared in many aspects, in which, new human resources shall be considered as a pillar factor. The Institute of Human Studies under the Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences, in cooperation with a local partner - Green Innovation Joint Stock Company (GREEN IN) and other international partners, will organize an international scientific conference on the topic of " Human development and new human resources for Vietnam’s Net Zero emission goal ".

The Organizing Committee would like to call for papers from scientists, managers, lecturers and environmental activists with the following information:
